For Bulk Fuel Operator Training
Amendment 1 – Attachment A
September 7, 2017

a. Scope of Work:

Provide bulk fuel tank farm operator training for rural Alaska communities in accordance with an established ten-day curriculum at the Alaska Vocational Technical Center (AVTEC) in Seward, Alaska. The course shall provide students the knowledge and skills necessary to safely operate and maintain a bulk fuel storage facility while complying with state and federal laws. The curriculum shall include bulk fuel storage facility construction, facility operations, tank farm inspection criteria, facility maintenance, inventory control, tank farm safety, spill detection and spill response planning.

The Itinerant Bulk Fuel Tank Farm Operator Training program trains participants from rural communities that have completed the Bulk Fuel Operator Training Program at AVTEC. An itinerant trainer will make site visits to up to 30 communities where graduates of the Bulk Fuel Operator training work. The training will be provided at least six months from the date the operator completed the AVTEC Bulk Fuel Operator Training and will last one day at each site.

Recruitment and selection of applicants will be coordinated by AEA. AEA and AVTEC will provide the basic curriculum for the itinerant training. Participant activities will include an initial physical inspection of the tank farm, identification of operation and maintenance needs, hands-on repairs and replacement of minor maintenance needs, and additional on-site training to address specific facility concerns and considerations. If needed, participants will also learn proper reporting procedures.

b. Deliverables:

1. Six classes of approximately 10 students each at AVTEC.
2. Up to 30 Itinerant training visits to communities.
3. Report documenting itinerant training provided.

c. Budget:

See attached Budget and Funding Summary dated September 7, 2017.

d. Delivery Method:

AEA will identify students for Bulk Fuel Operator Training and manage travel to/from AVTEC in Seward. AVTEC will conduct the classroom training in Seward under a Reimbursable Services Agreement with AEA.

AEA will identify communities for Itinerant Bulk Fuel Training and manage travel to/from Anchorage to the chosen communities. The training will be performed by qualified trainers from AVTEC, AEA In-House Staff, and by contract.
